

A GROVE OF THE TAMOPAN PERSIMMON (Diospyros kaki L. f.), S. P. I. No. 16921.

W. P. Fulton standing beside one of the trees in his Tamopan persimmon grove at Brooksville, Fla. This is the largest grove of this new Chinese variety in America. It is on high hammock land in western Florida, and apparently the variety is admirably adapted to the conditions there. The trees have already borne fair crops of fruit of good quality. Photograph (P15924FS) by Mr. Peter Bisset, August 3, 1915.